“ I am so sorry for your loss Larry. I know that Kathy was your world your first love your only love and will always be and for the girls, I am so sorry for the loss of your mom. She will be missed by her grandchildren because our grandchildren is our world. I have lit a candle in the remembrance of your wife , mother , grandmother , and sister I know in my heart that she is up there with the rest of the family and she is an angel watching over her family. I am deeply sad for her loss, she was a great loving private young woman. We were close when she was a teenager growing up and then as years goes on we get busy with our lives but Kathy will always be my sister in life and in death. Thinking of sweet memories and her life and her beautiful children and her loving husband I love you all. From your Aunt Sally

“ The Sailing Ship

by Charles Henry Brent

What is dying?

A ship sails to the morning breeze and starts for the ocean.

She is an object and I stand watching her

Till at last she fades from the horizon,

And someone at my side says, “She is gone!” Gone where?

Gone from my sight, that is all;

She is just as large in the masts, hull and spars as she was when I saw her,

And just as able to bear her load of living freight to its destination.

The diminished size and total loss of sight is in me, not in her;

And just at the moment when someone at my side says, “She is gone”, I am standing on the seashore.

There are others who are watching her coming,

And other voices take up a glad shout,

“There she comes” – and that is dying.

Love and Prayers to you all!
