“ I see so many people share the same memory I have of Craig - his laughter and his great style of telling a story, definitely a shared trait of the Hellman men. I remember getting to know him well when he lived on the next block from my mom, his Aunt Marilyn. Glad I had that opportunity. Thought and prayers for his family.

“ I was visiting my brother Bryan in Michigan City almost forty years ago.

We went over to Craig's house and then Joy arrived; there was a seachange in Craig. This image remains with me.

“ I had the privilege of knowing Craig through work at Sabin. A man of many words who touched everyone's heart in some way. He was one of the most loyal friends I could have ever asked for. I loved hearing his stories and especially his laughter. He will truly be missed. My prayers are with your family.

“ I was blessed to have worked with Craig for 26 years at Sabin . I will truly miss his words of wisdom that he would share with me, and his smile and laughter that I heard each day.
He could always bring a smile to my face.

“ I remember climbing on the back of Craig's motorcycle as a teen, terrified of motorcycles yet 100 % trusting of my cousin... always feeling safe. I still have my original book Illusions, and Be Here Now (gifts from Craig "The Buddha")... Big wisdom, great man. Our great Loss... may peace rain swift and sweet upon him.
