“ On May 22, 1987 I walked into Gary's office. I didn't work directly for Gary but I needed to inform management that I needed someone to work for me on the night shift that night as I couldn't be there. That day was a Friday and Gary was the only supervisor in the building. That afternoon I had been informed that my Dad had died. We just had the funeral for my Mother who had died on Mother's day 12 days earlier. The compassion Gary showed to me that day is something I will never forget. I will always remember that day and how Gary made me feel a little better on one of the worst days in my life. God Bless you Gary and your family from your friend at AT&T Mike Blake.
