“ I am a mother of a 16 & 13 yr old and Auntie to an innumerable host of nieces and nephews; my heart is broken to know a family's heart is broken this way.

I lost my niece almost exactly one year ago to a fatal car accident on Mother's Day 5.13.2012. She was as bright a light & star as your Hailey seems to be. She had many things going on in her life, Hailey, many wonderful accomplishments and I'm sure many ambitions for her future, as did my niece. Sometimes the most precious energy in our lives shifts and we don't understand why. What I do know is my niece has been with us every day this past year, even when we couldn't accept this new circumstance, this very obvious difference. I can feel her love as our guardian angel. Her name is Charnisha Nicole Hardy, yeahp Hardy...I hope they find one another (Hardy girls) in Heaven's paradise and give one another comfort until we meet them again. Here is a poem my sister shared to help through rough moments, may Hailey's love and memories keep you all in perfect peace and positive remembrance, and in the joy of knowing that she IS ok. Many blessings!

A Letter From Heaven

*When tomorrow starts without me
and I'm not hear to see,
If the sun should rise and find your eyes filled with tears for me...*

*I wish so much you wouldn't cry
the way you did today,
While thinking of the many things we didn't get to say.*

*I know how much you love me,
as much as I love you;
and each time you think of me,
I know you'll miss me too.*

*So, when tomorrow starts without me,
don't think we're far apart;
for every time you think of me,
I'm right there in your heart. ~Author Unknown*

you grew and was the flower girl trying to put flowers in her dress.
Not long after that you started school and spent hours reading on your grandpa's lap. Always happy to see me when I came home for visits and so very helpful with your young cousins. I wish I could wrap my arms around you one more time. So loved and so unaware of just how many people you touched.*
