“ Kelly Cissell It is with a deep and sadden heart that I must write that Miller Drive lost a true neighborhood boy Rob L. Covey. Rob passed away March 20, 2015 at the age of 52. Rob left behind many memories for me growing up back in the good old days of the Miller Drive area. I met Rob when he was 9 & I was 12 when we first moved to Bloomington in 1970. I could go on and on about Rob, but I will never forget Rob and his Honda motorcycle with me on the back cruising the streets and usually finding something to do we should probably not be doing. Gone are the days that Rob and I would go camping with Leroy and Maxine. Rob called Leroy "Pa" & Maxine "Ma". We would stop on our way to camp at Honey Jones and Leroy would buy us a bottle of Mt. Dew and pickled bologna. Rob and I would ride in the back of the truck with all the camping gear and one time we threw our bottles in the ditch and the Game Warden pulled Leroy over and made us go back and pick them up. Leroy never got mad at Rob & I but Maxine made up for it. Rob would also walk with me at midnight to meet my mother when she got off work at RCA and mom would tell Rob to pick up his feet and quit dragging them. Rob & I would raid Maxine's canned goods when she was not home and eat them before she got back. I will always treasure the memories of Rob Covey. Rest In peace my true friend.

Friends forever,

Kelly Cissell
