“ on June first roger would've been 38, I'd be busting his chops for being old. Pushing 40. I think he'd enjoy that. I know I would. Sending love from the family. We all miss you, and love you. I hope you're resting peacefully somewhere. And if you are you're busting my chops for talking to an online obituary board.

Love you.
Little brother, and family.

“ Well Roger, your birthday is coming up in a couple days, I wanted to wish you a happy birthday and so does Memphis. He tells everyone his daddy is in heaven but I don't think he really understands. He will be starting kindergarten this fall. I wish you were here to see it but we all know wishes never come true if so then you would still be here and I would have won the lottery. Anyways, Happy early birthday.

“ I can't believe we are on the verge of being 2 yrs without you... I think about you so much. I miss our talks and how we used to laugh about the silliest things. I miss your kind gentle ways and the way you always had my back. You are never forgotten. ? Billie

“ Going through our pictures and it's so overwhelming when our son says he wants to go to heaven to see you and I have to explain that only angels can go to heaven. I miss the road and all the traveling but most of all I miss you being around and so does Memphis. RIP! love you always

“ Roger... I think about you almost everyday. I can't believe you are gone. I wish so much I had even one day back to talk to you and tell you how much your friendship meant to me. I bought a balloon to release for your angelversary, I wish you really could get it in heaven. Logan talks about you and Memphis all the time. It makes me smile that he remembers you. I cried all day yesterday, I don't think I will ever be able to accept that I will never see your face again. I miss you my friend. You taught me so much about who I want to be and how I want to live my life. I'm so thankful for the time I did have to know you.
Love you always- Billie
